

Useless

Scrap

bike parts

PIZZA

Cutter

Disc
brake

add the hub and
disc brake and
hold by the
stem of the supervision.

to create this garden desktop you first need to find an old desk or kitchen top. Then make sure it is empty. You can then start to paint it any colour you like and then start planting plants in the draws and any draws not in use can be used to hold supplies. Then for extra decorative ness you can plant some plants in pots and put them on the top and like the picture above you can find an old mirror and use it as a garden mirror. This is good for the environment and it is a good family activity.

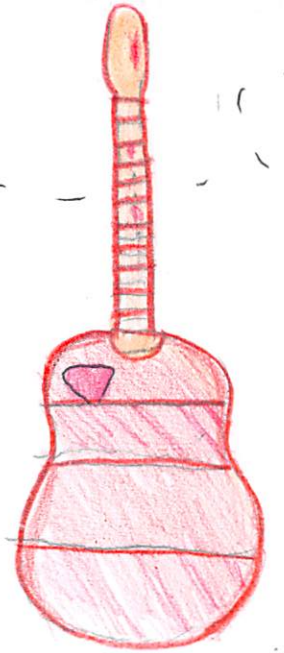

upcycled boots
 - if you have
 some old wellies
 why not create
 a plant pot
 out of it
 all you have to do is
 add soil
 and seeds

Upcycling Ideas

upcycling is a bit
 like recycling but
 instead of crushing
 it down and molding
 it into something
 new you keep it
 and alter it of
 change it to a
 new purpose.

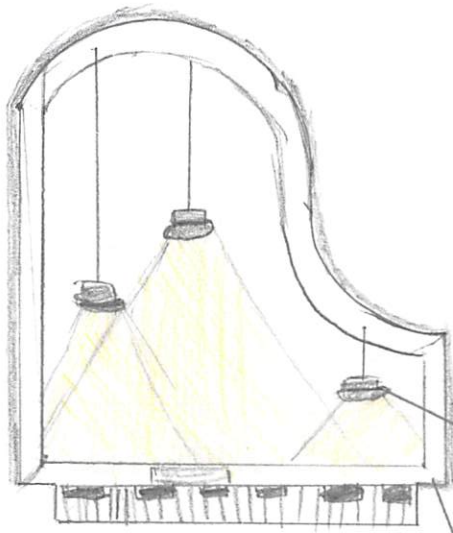

upcycled guitar
 shelf

- this unique
 shelf is perfect
 to go on your
 wall and there is only a few simple
 steps

- cut the top off
 your guitar
- add a few wooden
 slots it
- add decorations
 and hang it up.

My design consists of a piano 3 Bowler hats being recycled into a classy and stylish desk.

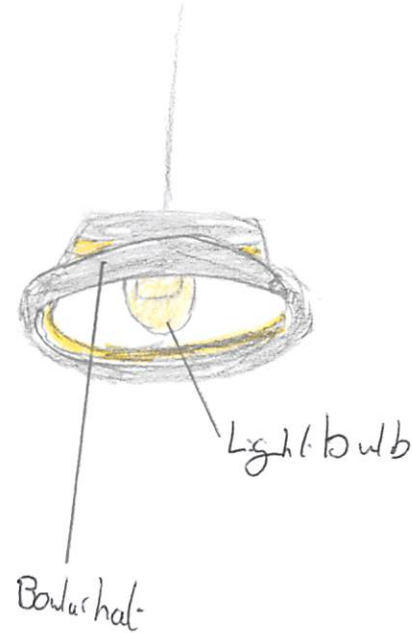

Steps

1 First you need to cut a perfect fit for the piano to fit in the wall

2 Next step is to collect 3 old Bowler hats and cut holes in the tops put lights through them

3 Finally drill holes in the top of the piano put the hats through them stand back and enjoy

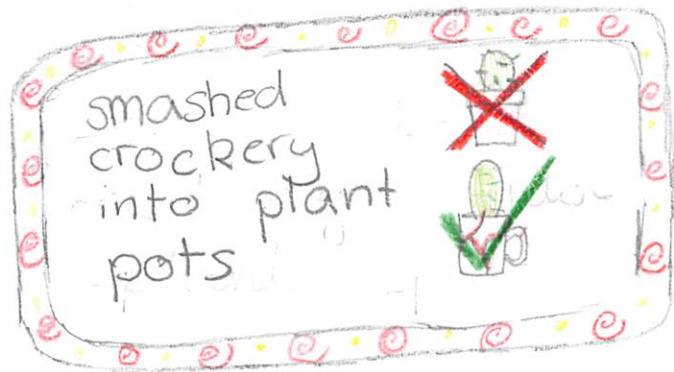

Piano Table

UPcycling Competition

Upcycling

Upcycling is taking an object or material that would otherwise go to landfill and turning it into something completely new. It is very cost effective and good for the environment.

Will make the perfect plant pot.

It has taken inspiration from the Japanese repair method called Kintsugi.

①

Firstly, you take your smashed crockery.

②

Then, you would stick it back together.

③

After that, you add colour over the cracks to make them stand out rather than blend in.

④

Lastly, you can put plants in them or just use it as decoration.

REDUCE
WASTE
IN
LANDFILLS

